THE BRITISH MAKE DENIAL.

SAY KAISER'S PLAN NOT REJECTED.

Von Waldersee Will Reach Tien-Tsin Tomorrow—Reported That Russians Will Occupy Shan-Hai-Kwan—Chaffee Arrives at Tien-Tsin and Confers With Li Hung Chang—United States and Russia Only Countries Recognizing Li.

By Wire to The Telegram.

London, Sept. 27.—The British Foreign Office has issued a denial that a reply has been sent to Germany rejecting the Kaiser's plan to restore peace in China.

ANOTHER RUSSIAN MOVEMENT.

Tien-Tsin, Sept. 27—Field Marshal Count Von Waldersee, commander-in-chief of the international forces, will arrive here tomorrow. He will be received and review the troops of the allied nations. It is reported that the Russians, after they captured the Luzai forts, began rushing troops north along the railroad for the purpose of occupying Shan-Hai-Kwan.

CHAFFEE VISITS LI HUNG CHANG.

Tien-Tsin, Sept. 27.—Gen. Chaffee has arrived and conferred with the staff officers of the different departments with a view to establishing a winter base in the vicinity of Tien-Tsin. He went to Tiongu and made a general inspection. The general visited Li Hung Chang and informally discussed the outlook for a settlement. It is understood that Earl Li preferred that American officers accompany the viceroy to Pekin. No other power, except Russia, has as yet recognized Li Hung Chang officially.

HIGH POINT AT THE FAIR.

A Committee at Work Securing Exhibits. A Fine Showing Will be Made.

A committee composed of Messrs. W. R. Rankin, W. E. Bevill, G. H. McKinney and Dr. J. T. J. Battle went to High Point this morning in the interest of the Fair. It is understood that a number of the manufacturing and other business enterprises of that place wish to make exhibits, and the committee will extend them all a cordial invitation to contribute to the success of the Fair.

No place in the country can make a more creditable showing along several lines than High Point, and it is hoped that the progressive business men of that thriving young city will give the outside world an opportunity of a more extended acquaintance at our Fair.

Water Company Case in the Supreme Court.

The case of Gorrell vs. Greensboro Water Supply Company is expected to come up on appeal in the Supreme Court some time in October. The briefs are now being prepared. No case tried in North Carolina in recent years has attracted more attention among the legal fraternity than this. Several new questions, as to the liability of a corporation, etc., were brought up.

It will be remembered that the plaintiff was given judgment in the Superior Court of this county for damages to the amount of $5,000.

A Suggestion.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

Put the water works to supply the city of Greensboro into the hands of a competent hydraulic engineer; let him make all necessary surveys, etc., and report just what can be done and at what cost. Let him have full charge and management of the work and pay him the full value of his services and make him give bond for the faithful discharge of his duties. Kill all the fools who are writing about it and advising the Aldermen, who don't know any more than they do. R. K. G.

Swapped Bicycles.

A young gentleman from the Keeley Institute left a fine chainless bicycle standing in front of the postoffice a few minutes this morning, and when he returned the wheel was missing. The person taking it kindly left another wheel, older and of a cheaper grade, in its place.

The Prince and Princess of Wales will visit Belfast in January to lay the corner-stone of the Royal Victoria Hospital.

Fears as to the Safety of an American Liner in the English Channel.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Southampton, Sept. 27.—The American liner, New York, which passed the Scilly Islands at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon and Lizard at 9:30, has not yet been sighted. She should have arrived here at 4:30 this morning. A gale has been sweeping the British Channel. A tug has been despatched in search of the missing steamer.

Interrupted Funeral Takes Piace.

DEATH OF AN INFANT.

Mr. and Mrs. Crutchfield Lose Their Third Child--Sick for Months.

William Greene, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Crutchfield, died at 9:30 o'clock this morning at the home of its grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dodson, on East Market street. The little one had been ill for months and several times his life had been despaired of. Last week his parents returned with him from Waynesville, where he was carried in the hope that his health might be restored.

The death is a particularly sad blow to Mr. and Mrs. Crutchfield, who have lost all three of their children, each of them dying before reaching the second birthday. Little William would have been two years old in October.

Prince Henry, of Prussia, the Kaiser's brother, has been made commander-in-chief of the First German Squadron, succeeding Vice-Admiral Hoffman.

He Doesn't Like Aquariums.

Why any one should ever have desired to own or to visit an aquarium is a mystery. The view of fish, except when nicely grilled or when suspended at the end of a fishing line, is one of the most uninteresting of sights. The other animals when in confinement display traits which are more or less interesting. The lion has a sense of humor and displays it in the most pleasing way when he devours the lion tamer who has entered too often into his cage. The bear in his thirst for buns seems so much like the human boy that the spectator of his antics frequently feels an irresistible desire to hit him with a stick.

But the fish has not a single interesting trait. He will swim around the tank in which he is confined with a persistence which is maddening to the nervous spectator. He never engages in a genuine fight, but contents himself with an occasional surreptitious bite of an enemy's tail, which gives no true satisfaction to the beholder. If he happens to be a large snake thinly disguised as an eel or an octopus or some other alarmingly ugly fish, he will sometimes swim directly at the glass through which the visitor is looking at him and thereby give the latter a momentary sensation of horror, but the average fish cares nothing for the public and treats his visitors with calm contempt. An aquarium without fish, like a seashore resort without the sea, is unobjectionable, but an aquarium with real water and real fish is the dreariest object in nature.—W. L. Alden in Pearson's Magazine.

THE SITUATION IS UNCHANGED.

NO INDICATION OF SURRENDER.

A New Set of Coal Miners Went on Strike This Morning, While Those of Another Colliery Returned to Work--A Bad Blow to United Mine Workers--A Number of Collieries Around Hazleton Reported to be Working, Some Full Handed.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Shenandoah, Pa., Sept. 27.—The strike situation in the region between Mahanoy City and Ashland is unchanged. There is no indication of surrender or concession on either side. In fact, no overtures looking to a settlement of the differences have been made by either the strike dealers or the mine operators. Various propositions for a settlement by arbitration have been put forward by persons not directly concerned with the mining business, but thus far practically no progress has been made in this direction. A most noteworthy feature of the strike is the remarkable good behavior of the strikers up to this time.

Shamokin, Pa., Sept. 26.—The miners in the Locust Spring colliery, near Mount Carmel, went out on a strike this morning. The mine is tied up completely. It is owned by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal Company.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 27.—The men in the Markle colliery returned to work this morning and the grievances may be settled by arbitration. This is considered as a bad blow for the United Mine Workers' organization.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 27.—Of the twelve collieries located on the north side seven are reported by the operators to be mining coal. None are working full handed. Only one of the nine collieries on the south side is working. Four collieries on the west side are working and four collieries of the Lehigh Valley Company are reported to be turning out an increased output of coal.

A Great Time Among the Elks.

The Elks had a great time last night. There was fun a plenty, and the absent members feel today as if they had missed an opportunity for real enjoyment that will never again present itself.

The occasion was the initiation of Judge John Gray Bynum, who passeed through the ordeal with much heroism. The Judge made a docile subject and was tenderly (?) handled by the degree team, under the direction of Mr. Garland Daniel.

Will Speak for Bryan and Stevenson.

Solicitor A. L. Brooks has been engaged by State Chairman Simmons to make a number of speeches for Bryan and Stevenson during the present campaign. His first appointments will probably be filled within the next week or two, in Caswell and Orange counties.

In addition to this district, he will speak in the seventh, eighth and ninth districts, bearding the lion in his den, as it were.

Mr. Dick Discovers Sulphur Water.

Mr. John M. Dick, who is digging a large well to supply his steam laundry with water, has found water in abundance, and mineral water at that. A vein of strong sulphur has been struck, and now Mr. Dick is in a position to run a mineral water business in connection with his laundry.

The sulphur is strong and is believed to have splendid medicinal qualities.

A SUDDEN SUMMONS.

A Wealthy Architect Found Lying on the Sidewalk Dead.

By Wire to The Telegram.

New York, Sept. 27.—Charles S. Peck, one of the foremost architects of this city, was found dead this morning on the sidewalk in front of 403 West Seventeenth street. He had been badly bruised, indicating that he had been clubbed or sandbagged. Another indication of murder is the fact that nothing of value was found in his pockets. He was a man of large means.

THE SMITH MEMORAL TABLET.

Handsome Memorial to Former Pastor of First Presbyterian Church.

The memorial tablet which the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church will erect to the memory of their former pastor, Rev. J. Henry Smith, D. D., has been received at the marble yard of Mr. J. H. Neese. The tablet is a beautiful one, and will be an attractive memorial of an honored and beloved man.

The back plate is a handsomely shaped and finished piece of extra dark Vermont marble, 5 feet by 3 feet 4 inches in size. On this will be placed a highly polished tablet of imported Italian marble—3 feet, 6 inches, by 2 feet, 8 inches, in size—which will have the following inscription:

"In Loving Remembrance
Our Pastor,
Rev. J. Henry Smith, D. D.
1859-1897.

"Thirth-eight years, down history's tide,
In the life of this church, fondly, side by side,
Pastor and people floated gently on,
Loving and loved in days that are gone,
The billows of time have borne him away
From the star-lit dawn to the golden day."

The tablet will be placed as soon as the lettering is done. The ladies are to be congratulated on its excellence.

New Mercantile Establishment.

A 5 and 10 cent store, operated by the Imperial Syndicate, is being opened at 116 West Market street, in the store formerly occupied by Mr. O. D. Boycott. It is in charge of gentlemen of experience, who will doubtless make a success of the enterprise.

"I WIN" AND "I LOSE."

Sporting Men Ignore Their Tenses and Seem Pleased.

"Have you ever noticed the satisfied manner of gamblers while twisting their tenses into the 'I win' and 'I lose' common to the fraternity?" remarked a man who has a fondness for investigating the peculiarities of his fellows. "I have thought of that for a long time—ever since that form of expression came into common use among gamblers. Watch the first sport you hear talking in that style and notice the pleasure he seems to take in rolling his method of expression. The tense he uses evidently carries him back, and he enjoys again in the present the pleasures of the act when he speaks of it. Even if he says he 'lose' it gives him gratification, according to the philosophy of Charles Fox, who is authority for the statement that the greatest pleasure in the world, next to winning money, is to lose it.

"The ungrammatical fashion among gamblers dates back about 15 years. It seems impossible to conceive any reason for the custom other than the one I have mentioned. That form of speech is still growing in popularity. The so called 'sporting men' have extended the scope of the present tense to all their verbs. It jars on me sometimes, but even then I find consolation in the knowledge that if the 'sports' did not affect that particular style of speech 95 in 100 of them would do even worse, and their present picturesque defiance of grammar is a relief from the possibilities of such expressions as 'I seen' and 'I done.'"—New York Times.

How He Knew.

A ragman who was gathering up wornout clothing in the country purchased a pair of discarded trousers at a farmhouse and remarked to the man of the house as he paid for the stuff he had bought:

"I see, sir, that you are about to lose your land on a mortgage."

"Guess you are right," said the discouraged looking farmer, "but will you tell me how the Sam Hill you found that out?"

"Easy enough," said the cheerful ragman as he settled back on the seat of his peddling wagon. "I notice that these old pants are completely played out so far as the part of 'em you sat down on is concerned, but they show mighty little wear anywhere else."—Buffalo News.

IS THE FRANCHISE LEGAL?

CITY IS MASTER OF THE SITUATION.

One Man's Opinion on the Water Question. Says the Water Company Admitted That it Had no Legal Right to an Existence in Greensboro--The City Not Compelled to Purchase the Plant to Save Itself From Hurtful Competition.

A group of gentlemen were this morning engaged in discussing the water works situation, which, next to the Senatorial question, is just now the most interesting topic of conversation in Greensboro, when the question was raised as to the advisability of the city installing a new plant. It was suggested that, with two rival plants in operation, the city might not derive a sufficient amount of revenue to pay the interest on the bonds. In fact it seemed to be the general opinion that such would be the case, in which event the city would be in a rather bad way.

About this time a gentleman who had been standing quietly by spoke up and said: "Why this seeming fear of and great consideration for the present water company? Does any one contend that the city is compelled to purchase the plant to save itself from hurtful competition, or pay an excessive price for the system, even if it should be bought? Has not the company admitted that it has no legal franchise? This being the case, is not the city of Greensboro master of the situation, if the Aldermen will only exercise their authority and take advantage of the situation?"

The opinion did not meet with unanimous approval, and it was suggested that the contention of the water company might not be correct, since a lawsuit in which it was made has not yet been settled by the Supreme Court. The gentleman above quoted, however, insisted that the city was neither legally nor morally bound to purchase the water plant, especially since there are grave doubts as to its yielding a revenue.

Continuing, he said, "In its answer to complaints in two damage suits the Greensboro Water Supply Company set up the claim that it was in no way bound by any existing contract, contending that the city had no constitutional authority to enter into any contract with it or with any other company or person, granting a franchise for the exclusive use of the streets of the city for a system of waterworks. The company further insisted that the present contract, which does grant an exclusive franchise, was unconstitutional and void, invalid and against public policy, and in no way binding upon either the company or city. So strong was the contention along this line that the compay set up the special plea of the invalidity of the contract as a defence in all actions arising from a breach of its duty under the same.

"If this be true," added the gentleman, "what is there to prevent the city from naming the price it will pay for the plant—a fair and reasonable compensation, of course I have understood that the water committee could have purchased the plant and system at a great deal lower figure than the amount agreed upon by the Board of Aldermen, had the matter been left in the hands of the committee. Of course it might not have been done with quite so much haste."

Realizing that a long and heated discussion was on, the reporter crossed the street to join a crowd divided between Carr and Simmons.

Another Cutting Scrape in Duplin.

Will Woods, a colored barber, had his throat cut last night by another colored man, Cy. Floyd, a waiter at Hotel Guilford. The affair took place down in Duplin, the two men becoming engaged in a fight over a woman. It is said that Woods had Lloyd down on the ground and was giving him a severe drubbing, when the latter turned the tables by the use of a knife.

The wound is not serious.

Gospel Services.

GENERAL CARR'S CONTRIBUTION

GAVE $2,600 IN TWO CAMPAIGNS.

Secretary Pearsall Says Chairman Simmons Did Not Have Carte Blanche to Draw on the General's Bank Account—Penitentiary Raising Beef Cattle—Artesian Well at the Institution for the Blind—Farmers Meetings to be Held in Raleigh Fair Week.

Special Correspondence of The Telegram.

Raleigh, Sept. 27—In a conversation with your correspondent upon the subject of campaign contributions, about which there is so much public talk, Mr. P. M. Pearsall, secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee, said that so many misstatements had somehow or other gotten into circulation concerning the amount of money contributed to the State committee by Gen. Julian S. Carr in the campaigns of 1898 and 1900 that he thought it was due Gen. Carr and Mr. Simmons that the exact facts about this matter should be stated so that Gen. Carr might have full credit for what he had given, and also because a number of inquiries have been made concerning these contributions. Mr. Pearsall said: "Gen. Carr's total contribution to the State committee in the campaign of 1898 was $2,150 and his total contribution this year was $450. Mr." Pearsall also said: "The story current throughout the State that the chairman of the committee had authority in the campaign of 1898 to draw upon Gen. Carr's bank account for an indefinite sum of money, or as to that for any sum at all, is not true. This rumor probably grew out of the fact that $1,500 of Gen. Carr's contribution in 1898 was, by agreement between him and the chairman, placed by him to the credit of the chairman in the Frst National Bank of Durham, in three installments of $500 each and drawn out on the check of the chairman as needed for campaign expenses."

The executive committee of the State fair met yesterday. Arrangements were made for a fine game of baseball on Friday of fair week, in the athletic field within the race course, between teams from the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, of Blakcksburg, and the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Raleigh. The Midway this year will be a great feature. All the space from end to end is taken. This time the Midway shows will be on each side of a broad avenue, instead of only side.

A. W. Shaffer, engineer to the State Board of Health, has gone to Goldsboro, and thence goes to Wilson, Tarboro and Rocky Mount. At each place he will take samples of water for bacteriological analysis.

President T. N. Ivey, of the State Press Association, did not go on the editorial excursion to Niagara Falls. He says about 75 of the members did go.

A Democrat from Forsyth said as to the Senatorial contest: "Simmons has 90 per cent. of our vote in my county." "And 90 or 95 per cent in mine," added a Bertie county Democrat.

F. B. Arendel, of the penitentiary, says it has on its Caledonia farm 327 beef cattle, which are being fattened for market. At each of the farms is a dairy herd. He says thers are also 400 turkeys at the Caledonia farm.

Revenue Collector Carl Duncan is at Morehead City. He and the other directors of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railway last evening held their annual session and received the report of President James A. Bryan. The latter has certainly done well with the road. He has spent a lot of money, but he has the road in far beter shape than your correspondent has ever seen it; and he is putting in all sorts of long needed permanent improvements. The stockholders met today and elected directors on their part.

The artesian well at the institution for the blind here yesterday reached a depth of 157 feet and water was struck, the flow being 20 gallons a minute and the quality good. The test of the purity of the water has not yet been made. Work will begin at once on a well at the instution for negro deaf mutes and blind. The cost of the well first alluded to is about $600, the contractor says. He says that the bill for city water for the two institutions is about $100 a month.

The Negro State Conference meets here today, Rev. C. H. King presiding.

At the last October meeting of the Board of Agriculture Col. J. Bryan Grimes, now Secretary of State-elect, introduced the following, which was adopted: "That the officers of the Agricultural Society cooperate in organizing, during the State Fair week of 1900, a series of farmers' meetings, to be held in Raleigh (in the new auditorium) for the discussion of the following subjects:

Tuesday night—"Mixed Farming in the Cotton and Tobacco Belt."

Wednesday night—"Good Roads and the Farmers." Prof J. A. Holmes to lead.

Thursday night—"For Crops and Live Stock Interests."

Friday night—"How to Increase the Fertility of Farm Lands," or such variation of these subjects as may be agreed upon between the officers of this Board and the officers of the Agricultural Society. Arrangements will be made to hold these meetings during Fair week.

I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. "THE 'SALT' OF SALTS."

A Hot Weather Headache Cure.

During the excessive hot spells the liver frequently refuses to do its work properly. Bile accumulates instead of being thrown off through the kidneys. This accumulated bile works its way to the stomach and from the stomach to the blood. The whole system then becomes poisoned with it. The result is usually severe headache through the eyes and temples, accompanied by nausea and vomiting. Such attacks are easily and effectively relieved by the use of by taking laxative doses of the Salt every morning. Abbey's Salt is made from the salts extracted from the juices of fresh pure fruits and headaches, caused by Indigestion and Biliousness, are entirely cured by continuing the use of the Salt until the normal action of the liver and stomach is restored.

Sold by most druggists, or sent by mail,

"I am pleased to say that my experience with the use of your "excellent Salt" is very satisfactory, having used it recently in Nervous Prostration with wakefulness, headaches, etc., both of which were controlled by it. After much experience, I heartily recommend it to all physicians as one of our best and most reliable remedies.

I desire to add my appreciation to the already large list of physicians who certify to the efficacy of your admirable remedy. It has a place among my reliables."

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

"CITIZENS BY ANNEXATION."

Porto Ricans Permitted to Register in Baltimore—Novel Poll Book Entries.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 26.—"Naturalized by annexation" are the words ntered opposite the names of Dr. rancisco Del Valle, his son, and four other Porto Ricans, on Baltimore City registration books. The men presented themselves today for registration in several voting precincts. The registration officials had apparently received instructions from the board of election supervisors to allow the Porto Ricans to register, provided they complied with the residence clause of the law, which requires a citizen to reside in a legislative district six months before being eligible to vote.

Isaac Lobe Strauss, counsel to the board, a few days ago gave an opinion that citizens of Porto Rico became citizens of the United States when the island was made a part of the United States territory. There are probably twenty-five Porto Ricans in this city, who, under the ruling of the board of supervisors, will cast their votes in November.

HE FOOLED THE SURGEONS.

All doctors told Renick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, O., after suffering 18 months from Rectal Fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest pile cure on earth, and the best salve in the world. 25 cents a box. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers are prompt, palatable, pleasant, powerful, purifying little pills.

The Death of a W. C. T. U. Worker.

Whereas, In the providence of God our State Union has been called to mourn the loss of a devoted and zealous worker:

Resolved, 1st, That in the death of Miss Sally K. Stevens, superintendent of the press work, we realize that the cause has lost an efficient and faithful worker.

Resolved, 2nd, That we, her sisters n the work for God and humanity, meekly deplore the removal of her whose indomitable courage and perseverance, mingled with Christian sympathy, made her an important factor in spreading the principles of temperanee and purity.

Resolved, 3rd, That we bow in humble submission to the will of Him who has called her away from the vicissitudes of this life to dwell forever with the redeemed.

Resolved, 4th, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the minutes, in the White Ribbon and in other state papers; also that a copy be sent to the bereaved sister and brothers.

MARY E. CARTLAND, President.
FANNIE E. ROSS, Rec. Secretary.

Dangers of Boating.

Clara—When George and I are married, I am to have my own way in everything.

Dora—Guess you won't.

Clara—Indeed I will. That's the bargain. Don't you remember I told you he proposed to me in a rowboat and asked if I'd float through life with him just that way?

"Yes."

"Well, he was rowing, but I was steering."—New York Weekly.

A stray chimpanzee from Central Africa sometimes goes as far north as Morocco, where it is looked on as "a hairy man with four hands."

CONSUMPTION IS SPREADING.

Statement of a Doctor to the Electro-Therapeutic Conference.

New York, Sept. 26.—The annual conference of the American Electro-Therapeutic Association opened here today, with a discussion of the use of electricity in the treatment of tuberculosis and methods employed.

Dr. M. J. Brooks, of Stamford, Conn., said that climatic conditions had nothing to do with the germs of this disease; they are found everywhere. Consumption is becoming a more frequent disease even in the Adirondacks and similar places.

Dr. Charles O. Files, of Portland, Me., spoke of the value of electric light concentrated on the patient, and said that in each of a great number of cases which he had treated according to that method, there had been marked improvement.

Dr. Wolf Frudenthal, of this city, said his experiments with "Chemical Rays" had demonstrated that with improved instruments for the transfusion of the rays, this cure would prove a success.

Objectionable Features.

Naggus—I have read your speech, Borus, and, to tell the truth, I don't like its physiognomy.

Borus—Its physiognomy? What do you mean?

Naggus—Its I's are too close together.—Chicago Tribune.

An Obstinate Maid.

Mr. Sappeigh—I wouldn't marry that Miss Gabby. She is terribly set in her ways.

Mr. Softleigh—Is that so?

Mr. Sappeigh—Yes, indeed. Why, she has refused me nine times.—Baltimore American.

If justice ruled, what a shifting of jobs there would be.—Milwaukee Journal.

GOING BACK TO MANILLA.

About 35,000 of Our Troops to Leave Pekin at Once.

Washington Post, 26th.

The United States government yesterday took the first step toward a redemption of its pledge, made to the Russian Government August 28 last, by cabling an instruction to Gen. Chaffee to reduce the American forces in China to the proportions of a legation guard. Nearly a month ago the Russian government was told, through M. de Wollant, its charge here, that if the Russian forces and ministry were withdrawn from Pekin, "we shall give instructions to the commander of the American forces in China to withdraw our forces from Pekin, after due conference with the other commanders as to the time and manner of withdrawal."

That time has now come, and yesterday's action marks the beginning of the disappearance of the American army from China, for although some military force is to remain, it will not be of the character of an army, but, under the conditions laid down in the order to Gen. Chaffee, and especially under its official designation as a "legation guard," will be rather of the nature of a civil guard. This small force will not be included in any military operations which may be conducted by the allied armies, and so will not fall subject to the direction of Field Marshal Count von Waldersee, the commander-in-chief.

A Misleading Analogy.

"When you eat, be careful to leave off hungry," is advice often given at the dinner table, but seldom received in an obedient spirit.

The caution was repeated not long since to a young man of vigorous appetite.

"Pshaw," said he, "you might as well tell me to wash my face and be careful to leave off dirty."

Answer of Italy and Austria.

Paris, Sept. 26.—It is asserted from excellent diplomatic sources that Italy and Austria are the only powers which have replied favorably and unconditionally to Germany's note. It is certainly a fact that the replies of Russia and France are almost identical, advocating the punisment of the originator of the anti-foreigh assaults, but not making their surrender an absolute condition of the peace preliminaries.

Japan takes a middle course, leaning a little more strongly towards Germany, while Great Britain declines.

A powerful argument used against Germany's position was its establishment of the precedent that it would permit the powers in future wars to demand personages considered by them to be guilty leaders, and that their punishment is deemed fit before peace negotiatiations are undertaken.

Starting a Conversation.

"What a study the face of that oldish man across the room would make for Max Nordau," he said, addressing the girl to whom the hostess had just introduced him.

"Why?" she asked.

"Degeneration is so plainly marked upon all his features. Jove! I should hate to have a man with his characteristics for my father!"

"Oh, I don't know," she replied. "It isn't so bad. Come over here, papa, and let me introduce you to Mr. Snively."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Theory of Its Failure.

A Savannah embezzler was captured through the instrumentality of a silver mounted rabbit's foot which he had left in his stateroom when he debarked from a steamer at Seattle, Wash. Probably it wasn't a genuine left hind foot from a rabbit killed in a country graveyard on a Friday night in the dark of the moon by a crosseyed negro.—Los Angeles Herald.

PATRIOTISM THAT IS BANKABLE.

The millions of pension money that has been pouring out of the pockets of the whole country into the North and Northwest for thirty years have increased with each recurring year. This has had a base effect upon the patriotism of that section as sure as the sun shines. Not a dollar has come to the South. It has not been expected or even desired, and when some time some politician, who measured the patriotism of the South by the standard set up by the "Grand Army of the Republic," proposed the absurd idea of giving United States pensions to Confederate soldiers, the propostion was met in the South with contempt.

In an article on the "Blue and the Gray" in the August number of the "Lost Cause" we find this comparison between the patriotism that rests upon recollection of duty performed and that which is regarded by its possessor as a bankable asset:

There was never an association organized which was so purely founded upon sentiment, and a beautiful sentiment, as the United Confederate Veterans. Behind it is no clamor for pensions, no dictation to legislatures and no appeal for public or private assistance. It represents the glorious memories of a great conflict, in which men and women of the South immortalized themselves and their country by sacrifices which were unparalleled, and by a devotion which has no peer in all the history of the world. There has never been a period in all the life of the United Confederate Veterans Association or an instance in all its meetings, which had the least taint of selfishness or which exhibited any other purpose but a desire to honor those and perpetuate the memory of those who died in defense of the great principles for which the South fought so gallantly and suffered so terribly.

On the other hand, the Grand Army of the Republic never has a meeting without some increased demand for pensions or pension legislation. It is constantly attempting to dictate to Congress what laws it should pass and to the President how the affairs of the Pension Department should be administered. Whatever may be the declared purpose, its actions are marked by selfish aggression in the interest of its members. The harshest and the bitterest criticism which has ever come upon the administration, even from Republican hands, has come from the Grand Army of the Republic. Under the guise of patriotic preservation of the history of the Federal armies, it is constantly, by the soldiers' vote, exacting from the Government new and enlarged subsidies.

What will be history's verdict of the two?

Mr. J. A. Woodell, late of Ripley, W. Va., has purchased an interest in the Winston Journal and will in the future be associated with Mr. J. O. Foy in the conduct of that paper. May he find North Carolina journalism pleasant and profitable employment.

In refutation of the Hon. M. A. Hanna's assertion that there are no trusts, the combination which controls the output of spool cotton has increased the price of thread 17 per cent.

Notwithstanding prophecies of dire calamity, the average citizen is proceeding as if he thought the republic would survive, no matter what may happen six weeks hence.

A horse is not known by his trappings, but qualities; so men are to be esteemed for virtue, not wealth.—Socrates.

The statement in The Telegram's Raleigh correspondence today concerning Gen. Carr's campaign contributions may be misleading to some, especially that part relating to his contribution this year. We have been told that, in addition to the aid he gave the State committee this year, Gen. Carr distributed liberal amounts in various Congressional districts, placing his money where it was most needed. Whatever may be said of Gen Carr, he cannot be accused of penuriousness in dealing with his party, or anything else for that matter.

If there are other patriots with senatorial aspirations they should not hesitatate to come forward. With the number already out they will not feel lonesome in defeat.—Durham Herald.

The voice of the trust lobbyist should not be heeded by the next Legislature. There are evidences that this admonition was needed by part of the last Legislature.—Winston Sentinel.

North Carolina has for several years been short on agricultural fairs. This year the fair at Greensboro and the usual State fair will furnish ample attraction for a large portion of the State.—Concord Tribune.

"To the man who lives just across the road from and a few rods north of the schoolhouse, about two miles south of Burlingame, Kas.," is the direction that was on a letter received at the Burlingame postoffice a few days ago. The man who lived in that house got it. What's in a name anyway?—Wilmington Star.

With Mr. Bryan quoting Lin oln with approval, and with Republican orators quoting Jefferson and giving their approbation to his utterances, the voter is in danger of having his mind all pied up about the politics of these lamented gentlemen. The general understanding has been that the first named was in his time a Republican and the latter a Democrat.—Charlotte Observer.

There is a strong movement in Grece in favor of the Swiss military system in place of the German. A legal opinion was had in Washington the other day from one of the city attorneys as to what constituted weeds in the law. It seems that there is more wheat than calamity in Kansas this year. The Boston Globe says: "We may perchance nevermore sigh for bleeding Kansas. She has raised more wheat this year than was ever before grown by any State any year, breaking her own record of 1892, when there were grown 70,000,000 bushels, which was more than any other State ever grew. This year's crop is 78,000,000 bushels, worth on the farms about $39,000,000.

How He Broke It.

An irascible old gentleman had met in early life with an accident which left him with a broken nose, a deformity about which he was known to be a little sensitive.

One day a new inquirer propounded the old question, "How did you manage to break your nose?"

The old gentleman answered solemnly, "To tell the truth, my friend, the accident was caused by my poking it into other people's business."—London Answers.

THE TRAIN WAS STOPPED.

And Then the Question Was Who to Hold Responsible.

"One night last winter," said a Boston man, "I came up from the south with two friends of mine. They occupied the stateroom, and I was lodged in a section outside. They were in a hot discussion before they retired, and one of them had finally become so sleepy as to abandon the argument. I turned finally, as they did, but the man to whom the argument had been abandoned did not seem satisfied with the victory he had won, and when I left them he was busily engaged in trying to prolong the talk with his sleepy companion.

"Shortly after I had fallen asleep I was awakened by some confusion in the aisle of the car. The train was at a dead stop, and then I heard the voice of the conductor angrily ask of the porter, 'Now, who in thunder pulled that bell rope?' I had a shrewd suspicion, but deemed it safe to lie quiet and say nothing. Finally the train started, and as they could not find out who had jerked the bell rope the car assumed its customary night aspect. Presently the stateroom door opened and one of my friends requested me to step in and decide a bet. It seems that he who was not sleepy was trying to tell the man who was something to which the sleepy one refused to listen on the ground that the noise of the car wheels made it impossible for him to hear. The other man promptly rang the bell and stopped the train, as has already been told.

"The bet of $50 was as to who was responsible for stopping the train. The sleepy one said the wide awake one, because he had pulled the bell rope. The wide awake one said it was the sleepy one, because he had averred that he could not hear what was said to him because of the rumbling of the train, which naturally led to the train being stopped. I decided in favor of the wide awake man, which effectually waked the other up also. Which would you have decided in favor of?"—New York Tribune.

IMPORTANT!

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 26th, 1900.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

On and after October 15th, 1900, we, the undersigned, will do a strictly cash business. Our reasons are as follows:

1st. Absolute NECESSITY.

2nd. Laundry, the world over, is a recognized cash business and justly so.

3rd. Our accounts are necessarily small, and it causes an endless amount of confusion and expense to collect, besides losses each year in bad bills.

4th. All of our current expenses, such as labor, fuel, gas and supplies are cash, hence the stand we take is forced upon us. While we very much regret, in most cases, to exact the spot cash, yet we must treat all alike, and we see no other way out of the difficulty. We trust our customers will lend us their aid by stating when to return laundry and by being prepared to pay for same when delivered. Our drivers will have positive instructions to return to the laundry all packages not paid for.

We have on sale at office (for cash) coupon books from $1 to $5 which can be left at convenient place at home, so that on delivery of bundle the amount of laundry bill can be torn out by the driver.

VERY RESPECTFULLY,

A Before Unheard-of Stroke of Humor.

Philadelphia Record.

Dull as is the presidential campaign, it is not wholly wanting in strokes of humor. In North Carolina the Populists, who do not like the substitution of Stevenson for Towne, propose to vote for McKinley for vice-president on the ticket wiih Bryan. Could there be a more happy presidential combination than Bryan and McKinley?

A Convincing Argument.

Wilkesboro Chronicle.

One of the most convincing arguments favoring Mr. Simmons for Senator is the hellish abuse heaped upon him by the office-holding Republicans and bought-up Populists. These classes have naught but vituperation for honest men, and their criticism of Mr. Simmons is a veritable mead of praise of which any honest man should be proud.

That Low Animal, Man.

Instead of the highest, man is in some respects the lowest of the animal kingdom. Man is the most unchaste, the most drunken, the most egotistic, the most miserly, the most hypocritical and the most atrocious of living creatures. No animal, except man, kills for the mere sake of killing. For one being to take the life of another for purposes of selfish utility is bad enough, conscience knows, but the indiscriminate massacre of defenseless victims by armed and organized packs, just for pastime, is beyond characterization. The human species is the only species of animals that plunges to such depths of atrocity. Even vipers and hyenas do not kill for recreation.

No animal, except man, habitually seeks wealth purely out of an insane impulse to accumulate, and no animal, except man, gloats over accumulations that are of no possible use to him, that are an injury and an abomination and in whose acquisition he has committed irreparable crimes upon others. There are no millionaires—no professional, legalized, lifelong kleptomaniacs—among the birds and quadrupeds. No animal except man spends so large a part of his energies striving for superiority—not superiority in usefulness, but that superiority which consists in simply getting on the heads of one's fellows to crow—and no animal practices common, ordinary morality to the beings of the world in which he lives so little, compared with the amount he preaches it, as man.—Humane Review.

The Production of Caviare.

Two distinct varieties of caviare are manufactured in Russia—the granulated and the pressed forms. The granulated form is obtained by passing the fish roes under pressure through a fine meshed sieve. The small eggs pass intact, but the envelopes are retained in the sieve. To these pure salt is added in the proportion of one-twentieth or one-fortieth. It is intimately mixed with the eggs by means of a kind of wooden spoon. The caviare is then ready for consumption. It is packed in round metallic boxes of one and a half to five pounds and enveloped in parchment for transportation. The pressed caviare keeps better than the granulated form.

To obtain it the fresh caviare is treated with a solution of salt at 25 degrees Baume until the eggs acquire a certain degree of hardness. This operation requires considerable skill and experience. If allowed to stay in the solution too long, the caviare will be too salty, and if not long enough the eggs cannot be preserved. The caviare is then put into small sacks, which are pressed under a screw press to drive out the excess of salt. It is packed in barrels containing up to 1,000 pounds or left in the original sacks, which measure 8 by 20 inches. The average export of pressed caviare for the three years 1896 to 1898 has been more than 3,000 tons, representing a value of $1,400,000.—Scientific American.

Thinking of Her.

In the "Recollections of a New England Town" is the story of Mr. Bush, an inventor and a very studious man, who sometimes became so absorbed in thought as to forget both place and people.

His wife was a notable housekeeper, but she did not always go to church. One Sunday she accompanied her husband thither, and glad and proud was he. But when the service was over he walked away home, leaving her behind. Mrs. Bush was grieved.

"My dear," she said when she reached the house, "I don't know what people will think. You came away without me. It was plain to be seen that I was entirely forgotten."

Mr. Bush looked at her in comical dismay. "Forgotten, my dear?" said he. "Oh, no; I don't think that's possible. Why," a brilliant idea striking him, "now I remember. I was thinking of you all the way home. I was thinking what a good dinner you'd give me!"

PROGRESS IN GREAT BRITAIN.

A Few of the London Thoroughfares Will Soon Be Electrically Lighted.

United States Consul Halstead, of Birmingham, has made a report to the state department in regard to the use of electric lights in British cities, in which he says:

"A few of the main thoroughfares of London will soon be electrically lighted, some poles having recently been put into position. Piccadilly had a few as long ago as the fall of 1896, and no doubt the success of that experiment is regarded as warranting extension on careful lines.

"Birmingham is still a gas-lighted city, and there seems to be no street electric-lighting movement, though on January 1 last the corporation took under its municipal wing the small electric-lighting company. New mains are now being put in, and the question of electric street lighting must come up within a year or two, as must also the question of cost to consumers. Cork is one of the smallest towns with electric service, and gets its electricity as cheaply as any city. The charge in Cork is nine cents per unit for the electricity used in the first two hours every day, and two cents during the succeeding hours. For motor purposes the charge is eight cents during the first two hours and two cents thereafter. In Birmingham there is a uniform rate of 14 cents per unit to the general run of consumers—that is, to the great number using 100 or less units per month. For any quantity in excess of 100 units nine cents is the charge. There is also a special provision of eight cents per unit up to 100 units per month for electrical energy used for motors or all-day loads, and any quantity in excess of 100 units is four cents. A unit means here the burning of 17 ordinary incandescent lights one hour.

The gas department of the city of Birmingham also favors large consumers, and the result is a large use of gas engines in factories. The price of gas per thousand cubic feet per quarter in one building are: Under 25,000, 61 cents; 25,000 to 50,000, 57 cents; 50,000 to 250,000, 53 cents; 250,000 and upward, 49 cents."

Finding Oneself.

Rudyard Kipling has written an entertaining story about "The Ship That Found Herself." It recounts the voyage of the vessel—how the plates creaked, the timbers strained, the engines sulked, and a clamor of insistent individual voices demanded recognition as of prime importance in the make-up of the "ocean greyhound." Suddenly a storm arose, confusion and terror reigned; in the presence of a common danger all rivalry was hushed, and, after stress and silence was heard only a single, gentle voice, and no other—the voice of the unified ship, the ship that found herself. It is the allegory of many a life. Pride of talent, satisfaction in dress, pleasure in recreation, desire for social approval, human appetites, and even moral consciousness and spiritual aspirations—all these are at variance one with another, and unwilling to seek any solution but an exaltation of the one at the expense of all the others. Danger threatens—every faculty is strained to the point of tension; the strong parts are helped by the weak parts; there is no longer thought of civil war, but only of adequate duty and defense. The danger is met, is averted, is passed, and the man has found himself. Having risked all, being willing to lose all, he has saved all worth saving. "He that loseth his life for my sake shall find it."—Baptist Union.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to moke you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

WINE OF CARDUI

A SURE MEDICINE.

HANDSOM, VA., Dec. 31.

I have been suffering from female weakness for four years, and have taken many medicines, but Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught have done more for me than anything else.

MRS. CAROLINE EVANS.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

It is a mistake to take any and every kind of medicine when you are sick. There is danger in it. Most of the so-called cures for "female weakness" do nothing more than deaden the pain temporarily, and when the effect wears away the patient is weaker and sicker than before. It is never wise to take chances. You have only one life, and that is dear and precious. If you have any pain, ache, disorder or weakness in the feminine organs, nothing will help you like Wine of Cardui. It helps do away with morning sickness during the early stages of pregnancy, and modifies the pains of childbirth; recovery is rapid and future health is assured. The Wine is purely vegetable, being made of herbs whose medicinal properties act directly upon the organs of womanhood. It is a long-tried remedy, and has many years of success behind it. It is sure. Why take a chance medicine when you can get a sure medicine?

THE TRADE IN TEA.

Not Affected as Yet by the Chinese Trouble.

People of Peking and Tientsin Have Little More to Do with the Business Than to Act as Forwarding Agents.

A recent report from San Francisco to the effect that the revolution in China had interfered with the tea export business to such an extent that there would soon be a tea famine and that the price of tea would go up caused a stir in the tea drinking community.

One of the largest importers of tea in the United States said, according to the New York Tribune, that the Chinese trouble had not in any way affected the tea trade as yet. Contracts are being executed as usual for tea, and orders are being received for goods in exchange, and the large merchants have no fear as to advance in price or scarcity of tea. In that part of China where the tea grows it is brought to the towns in bulk, and sold to merchants who collect, assort and cure it, and then put it up in cans, cases and other packages for transportation. When it reaches that part of the country which is now in a state of revolution it is ready for shipment to this or any other country, and the people of Peking or Tientsin have really nothing more to do with the tea business than to act as forwarding agents.

The tea buying business begins in May and lasts until December, and the present troubles have not served to keep the men who usually make the trip to China from Europe and America from making their usual tour. As to prices, it is believed that the Chinese will not use the present conditions as a lever to raise them, although the opportunity for doing so is favorable. But the scrupulous honesty of the Chinese merchants keeps him from making use of his advantage. In speaking of the characteristics of these people, Edward Runge said:

"A Chinese merchant will drive a close bargain and do his best to get his goods at the lowest possible price. He will haggle and see every competitor before he gives his order, but once that is done he lives up to his word. He signs no contract and asks no written guarantee from the man with whom he makes the bargain. When the goods are delivered he pays for them, and he does so cheerfully, regardless of the changes that may have taken place in the market value of his goods. He pays as he agrees he will, and in that particular he is more reliable than many European merchants. The Japanese has papers drawn, has them vised and signed by consuls and consular officers, and if the goods should be cheaper when they are received he would find an excuse for refusing to accept them, and would compel the producer to reduce his price. I have known Chinese merchants to club together and make up a large sum to help a competitor pay his debts, and this spirit of mercantile honesty exists in all branches of the trade."

BOGUS OLD MASTERS.

Many Counterfeit Works of Art Made Up for Visitors to Paris This Year.

There is no doubt that the counterfeiters of paintings by well-known artists are hard at work in anticipation of the rush of half-informed picture-buyers to the Paris exposition.

One well-known picture dealer informs us, says Art Amateurs, that Brussels and Amsterdam are full of spurious old masters, and he instances the case of a picture sold by him about a year ago which has turned up in the former city bearing a name more famous than that of its author, and priced at ten times the amount for which he had sold it.

From another source we learn that two of the mast famous falsifiers of pictures in Europe are rushed with orders for their specialties.

The London picture factories are turning out old English paintings by the dozen, and the unscrupulous buyer may obtain Sir Joshuas, Gainsboroughs and Romneys for $50 to $100 apiece. An expert appraiser at the New York custom house tells us that he saw there lately three dozen false Monticellis and other pictures on the same day.

These false pictures are not sold through the regular dealers. They are peddled about by irresponsible, but glib and well-dressed persons, who always tell the same story. The picture belongs to some private owner who is pressed for money, but who desires to avoid publicity. For this reason his name cannot be given.

He could sell to a dealer, but the dealer would want to make too much profit. He would want to pay $5,000, and charge $15,000. The owner prefers to sell to a collector of taste and judgment for $10,000. He will even, being in straits for cash, take $8,000. Finally, after much parley, the picture is sold for $6,000, and the new owner congratulates himself on having obtained a masterpiece by a famous painter for one-third its value.

It is easy to give a painting the look of age. It is only to mix dirt with the paints and with the varnish. Bad varnish dried quickly produces deep cracks, and these can be made to appear old cracks by putting another coat of varnish over them.

NEW FACTS ABOUT MALARIA.

What the Researches of a German Scientist in New Guiana Have Revealed.

In a recent issue of the Deutsche Medizinische Woekenschrift there is an interesting account of the discoveries made by Prof. Koch in German New Guinea in regard to malaria. The professor began his investigations at Stephansort, and learned that 25 per cent. of the population of that place were suffering from malaria. Out of 21 Europeans, 12 were sick; out of 240 Chinese, 63; out of 209 Malays, 53, and out of 264 Melanesians, 29. In New Hanover not a single Melanesian was afflicted with the malady, whereas out of 19 Melanesians of Gardner's islands 9 were ill. In King William's Land, as in Java, Prof. Koch found a large number of native children infected with the disease, and as a result he maintains that only by a thorough examination of the children can it be ascertained whether any district is infected or not.

The entire coast of King William's Land is, he thinks, infected, while the neighboring islands seem to be more or less free from the disease. The presence of malaria in some places and not in others may be accounted for in a measure by the formation of the land and by the unusual activity of the pestiferous Anophelis flies. It would be unwise, however, says Prof. Koch, to attach too much weight to these factors, and especially to the latter, since these flies are to be found in regions which are wholly free from malaria.

BAD BLOOD, BAD COMPLEXION.

The skin is the seat of an almost endless variety of diseases. They are known by various names, but are all due to the same cause, acid and other poisons in the blood that irritate and interfere with the proper action of the skin.

To have a smooth, soft skin, free from all eruptions, the blood must be kept pure and healthy. The many preparations of arsenic and potash and the large number of face powders and lotions generally used in this class of diseases cover up for a short time, but cannot remove permanently the ugly blotches and the red, disfiguring pimples.

Eternal vigilance is the price of a beautiful complexion when such remedies are relied on.

Mr. H. T. Shobe, 2704 Lucas Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., says: "My daughter was afflicted for years with a disfiguring eruption on her face, which resisted all treatment. She was taken to two celebrated health springs, but received no benefit. Many medicines were prescribed, but without result, until we decided to try S. S. S., and by the time the first bottle was finished the eruption began to disappear. A dozen bottles cured her completely and left her skin perfectly smooth. She is now seventeen years old, and not a sign of the embarrassing disease has ever returned."

Greensboro Patriot: About two weeks ago Mr. Walter Garner, of near Climax, was bitten on the hand by a spider while binding feed in the field. It is not thought that he can survive.

A Good Investment.

"Is marriage a failure?" "I should say not!" remarked an Oregon farmer. "Why, there's Lucindy gits up in the mornin, milks six cows, gits breakfast, starts four children to skewl, looks arter the other three, feeds the hens, likewise the hogs, likewise some motherless sheep, skims 20 pans of milk, washes the clothes, gits dinner, et cetery, et cetery! Think I could hire anybody to do it for what she gits? Not much! Marriage, sir, is a success—a great success!"—Woman's Journal.

"I was pretty sure you would say that," rejoined the author; "consequently if you will count them you will find the heroine weeps real tears on just 253 pages of my story."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
